

A photograph of the Alcazaba in Sganzerla, Georgia. The image shows a large, ancient stone fortress built on a hillside. The walls are made of reddish-brown brick and stone, with several towers and battlements. In the foreground, there are wide, stone steps leading up to the base of the fortress. The sky is blue with some light clouds, and there are green trees and bushes on the hillside.

ALCAZABA

Sganzerla Georgia

The Alcazaba of Malaga is a Muslim-era fortress, built on a pre-existing fortress of Phoenician origin.

The view from Alcazaba

